

CORRESPONDENCE.

Waits Correspondence.

Our Christmas tree, festival and concert on the 23rd came off well, $35.15 being realized.

A very interesting watch meeting was held Sunday evening conducted by Elder Wright and consisting of singing, led by W. E. Chute, praying, speaking and social chat.

A donation for Elder Wright is to be held at the Mt Pleasant chapel on the 11th. All are invited to be present and bring something.

PECK NOTES.

Elder Dave spent his holidays with his friends in Peck.

There was a grand New Year's party at the residence of Nelson Howay on Monday evening last.

The Misses Hattie Barrett and Minnie Laura have been spending a few days visiting their friends in this place.

The Masonic Oyster Supper was a grand success. There were 180 numbers sold and a very pleasant time was had.

CAPAC CHIPS.

MA CHURCH EXPOSITION.—We send you an item or two to begin the new year (the infant 1883) so please appreciate our labor that it may not seem in vain.

Tho' we are certainly experiencing somewhat Icelandic weather in one sense, in another 'tis without its boon companion "snow" and our youthful swains may only cast longing glances at glittering cutters and content themselves with dreams of what the "future hath in store."

Mrs J. A. Smith is spending the New Year's holiday with friends in Flint.

Miss May Banfill is at present under the influence of a very bad cold. A guest for the New Year not as heartily welcome as one could wish.

No! We do not receive today. The fact is our wines are in too low a state to admit of that extravagance.

The lectures given under the auspices of the M. P. C. society by Dr McElroy, Dean of Adrian College, last week were not as well attended as one might expect in so charmingly aesthetic a town as Capac. However we dare say it was not through any lack of appreciation, from the people but rather from the effect of a too overruling generosity at Christmas time.

"Tis the early bird that gets the worm." Wonder if that would not apply to a matrimonial incident which occurred last week, with slight change, of course—"Tis the five o'clock bee that stings the sweetest honey."

Miss Nettie Lester was home for the holidays.

Mr and Mrs Wm Cottingham are in town. Yours, etc, SWEET BRIAR.

Additional Expositions.

—Young Reichard who was staided in the back by his schoolmate week before last is getting along nicely.

—Mixed society is like mixed pickles. All becomes of the same flavor if mixed together long enough.

—The mouthpiece of the telephone may be perfectly respectable, but there are a great many things said about it.

—Beware what you say of others because you only reveal yourself thereby. A man does not think to look behind the door unless he has some time stood there himself.

—The average farmer would consider it a huge joke if he got an order for two or more yards of butter yet this is the way it is done in parts of Spain. It is sent down from the mountains in the intestines of sheep, sausage fashion, and sold by lineal measure.

—Mrs Earnest's oldest son died in Grant very suddenly of scarlet fever last Tuesday. He was pressing hay on Saturday last when he took sick and died as stated above. Wm. Gardner's son aged about eleven years also died very suddenly last Saturday.

—Geo A. Waterbury, the genial editor of the Romeo Observer says, sadly, that he cannot join the church until he attends the funeral of the whelp who steals wood from the Observer office. He proposes to make that funeral a matter of necessity.—Times.

The Canada Southern R. R. is now known as the Canada Southern division of the Michigan Central

The Canada Southern previously ran from river to river, and St Thomas was the centre. Now it is part of a line extending from Chicago to Buffalo, and Detroit is the centre.

—This week we were pleased to chronicle the wedding of Rev J. Bettis formerly one of Brockway Centre's prominent young men now stationed at Minden to Miss Nellie E. Maynard, of Huron county. The happy couple are spending their honeymoon with his parents in town. May they have a pleasant journey through the voyage of life.

—Far and feathers or ride on a rail which should it be? is the question now agitating the minds of our citizens in regard to the wife beating affair of Saturday night last. The answer comes, "Both are too good for the man who would do such a low and mean piece of business." We were surprised to learn of such a thing occurring in our peaceful little village and hardly thought it of one so young, and such a short time married, but then as the old adage goes, "Put a pig in a parlor it will still be a pig." A man who is guilty of whipping his mother is not a very good specimen of humanity to have a wife, are our sentiments.

FOUND.—An old fashioned fur collar. Loser can have the same by calling at this office.

YET ALIAR.—All reports to the contrary notwithstanding. And we expect to live long enough to furnish the people of this vicinity and surrounding country with everything in the line of nursery stock necessary to make a pleasant home and life endurable. Seven years' experience in handling trees enable us to give better stock, better prices, and better satisfaction than any other dealers traveling. Orders by mail promptly answered.

Yours truly,
J. C. Brooks & Bro.,
Oxford, Mich.

Anded grief? Do they have abnormal appetites and crave food constantly? Beware of Worms. Very few children escape their ravages. No child can be happy or well while suffering with worms. They are perfectly harmless to the child, and they do not hurt the stomach. They are sold by C. A. Wells & Co.
